Panipet and such other places where manufacturers of carpets paid higher prices for them. Such restrictions have reduced the prices of wool and hair to a very great extent to the disadvantage of the local tanners. Some of the associations have represented strongly about the partiality shown by the Government in favour of the drugget manufacturers to the disadvantage of the tanning and the carpet manufacturing industries which are also Indian productive enterprises. It is understood that the carpets manufactured out of tannery wool are able to fetch much better prices from foreign countries than the druggets. The Committee, therefore, recommend that no such restrictions be imposed on the movement of tannery wool and tannery hair within the country.

Action taken.—The Government of India have since decided that such restrictions are unnecessary.
